

Personal Insurance with a personal touch

We offer our clients the best policy to fit their individual circumstances

When it comes to your personal insurance needs, you want the peace of mind that you, your possessions and assets are protected should the worst happen.

From insurance covering buildings, cars, travel, household and contents to more specialised insurance such as boat and aircraft, we can find the perfect insurer for your needs.

“We continue to highly recommend Peter Lole Insurance Brokers. We find their clear, honest and personal approach refreshing and informative.”

Events

As a truly independent provider, we have access to all major insurers and our research capabilities ensure that cover for your assets is only placed with reputable leading insurers, who are able to provide the best cover for you.

These insurers provide a flexible service and we can find an insurer that will fit your unique needs.

We can also arrange for immediate cover and offer flexible payment options.

The Personal Touch

We appreciate that our clients deserve a very personal service. Nothing is too much trouble and the end result is a tailor-made policy for your unique circumstances.

We have developed a specialist department over a number of years to make sure our clients receive the most comprehensive and flexible cover at competitive rates.

Impartial advice

Recent reports by consumer organisations have highlighted that many of the web-based insurance supermarkets are sponsored by the major insurers, which has raised doubts as to the impartiality of the website route.

As an independent insurance broker, we are not tied to any major insurance brands and can therefore offer truly impartial advice to our customers.

Obtaining the right cover

Everybody's circumstances are unique. Instead of using the multiple choice questioning method employed by large insurance firms, we ask specific questions to identify your individual circumstances to make sure you have a level of detail in your policy that will make sure you are not left open to failed claims in the future.

Our experts get right down into the details of your policy to make sure everything you need is covered.

Personal Service

It can take hours to trawl through the numerous websites or call various telephone-based providers. This is not only time consuming but customers often find this process completely impersonal, especially if they have had to endure key-pad systems employed by many of the telephone-based providers.

Our team is always just a phone call away and are on hand to help with any queries you might have regarding your policy.

Household Insurance

Our team use their skills to establish clients' exact needs and the level of cover they require, including specific details on any valued items. We manage every kind of home insurance from standard houses to homes of high net worth.

Whether you need building insurance, contents insurance or your assets valued, our team is always there to help.

Our other services include the following types of personal insurance:

Home

Travel

Car and Motor

Boat

High Net Worth

Aircraft
